CONSTITUTION AND SUN.

ATLANTA JULY 3, 1873.

From Yesterday's Evening Edition.

WALLACE & ... sold the Luke Gray property at the court house yesterday for $995. It was bought for Mrs. R. M. Wall by her friends.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—Yesterday was the regular sales day for this month. A number of lots of land were sold, averaging in the main pretty fair prices. We have not this evening the space to give the names of the purchasers or a description of the property. We noticed, however, that the famous carriage of Ex-Governor Bullock was sold to L. T. Swanson for $50. During the sale Sheriff Perkerson acted as an auctioneer, and the irrepressible Carley Wells as Secretary.

THE ORPHANS.—The inmates of the Methodist Orphans Home, at Decatur, visited Atlanta yesterday, and were the guests of Capt. O. H. Jones. There were some thirty-two or three. Captain Jones furnished transportation and drove them to all the principal points of interest. He also gave them a substantial dinner. The little ones were highly delighted with their trip to Atlanta. They appear happy and contented. They were made specially happy yesterday afternoon by a visit from the Busy Bees of the First Methodist Church. The Atlanta and West Point Railroad furnished the coach and the Georgia Railroad transportation to and from Decatur, free of charge.

Summary of State News.

FORSYTH.

Judge Hall has adjourned Upson Superior Court until the fourth Monday in July.——The cotton lice have put in an appearance in the neighborhood of Forsyth, and are doing considerable damage.—Mrs. Amelia Askins, widow of William Askins, died in this county on the 24th ult. She was sixty-two years of age.——The commencement exercises of Monroe Female College begin on the 10th of July. One of the prominent features of the occasion will be an address to the society of alumnae from His Excellency Governor Smith.

Another headless chicken has turned up in Crawford county, and, as might be expected, is on its way to Atlanta for exhibition. We fear that this will prove a profitless enterprise. Headless chickens are entirely too common up here. They are so thick that the difficulty is not to find a chicken without a head, but to find a chicken that has got any head. By a careful examination of the chicken statistics for the present season we ascertain that any ordinary yellow legged chicken, in good eating condition, does not retain his head more than five minutes after breathing this fatal atmosphere.

On last Sunday Kit Brown, colored, shot and instantly killed Lindsey Johnson, colored. The weapon used was a double-barreled shot-gun, and the ball entered the centre of Johnson's right temple. Kit Brown has been arrested and is now in jail.—Advertiser.

GRIFFIN.

It is a noticeable fact that Griffin is as well if not better shaded than any city of its size in this or any other State.

Yet the perseverance with which some of the Griffinites keep on the shady side of a ten dollar bill has long been a matter of profound astonishment to outside observers.

The Sam Bailey institute Chapel is being most beautifully decorated for the commencement exercises of the Female College.

On Sunday afternoon a drunken negro by the name of Bev. Brown made such resistance to the police that they were obliged to use their clubs upon him. His skull was slightly fractured besides other injuries not so severe. After Brown had been locked up in the guard house a mob of negroes collected around it and behaved very disorderly, threatening to release the prisoner, firing off pistols, etc. Mayor Beeks, upon the advice of Dr. Warren, who thought that the negroe's injuries were too severe to keep him locked up all Sunday night, consented to release him. The disorderly conduct of the mob was still continued for some time. Steps will be taken to arrest the ringleaders.

The commencement sermon of the Griffin Female College was preached on last Sunday by Dr. Callaway, to a crowded audience. News.

COLUMBUS.

The eighth annual distribution of premiums to the pupils of St. Joseph's Academy, under the auspices of the Sisters of Mercy, which came off on Monday evening was a most successful and delightful affair. The young ladies entertained their large audience with recitations and original essays of far more than the average merit. Bishop Gros was present, together with a number of other prominent divines in the Catholic Church. The Bishop awarded the premiums.

Bishop Gros reached Columbus on Monday afternoon. He was met by a large crowd, and addresses of welcome, together with a beautiful poem, was presented to him. The Bishop made an appropriate response——It is rumored on our streets that President McDougald, of the North and South Railroad, would resign his position today on account of more pressing business interests. Captain W. D. Chipley is suggested for his successor.——Seventeen persons were baptized on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Whipple, of Browneville.—Enquirer.

AUGUSTA.

Some Augusta negroes are in the habit of taking their weekly wash in Rae's creek, on the Washington road, and only a few miles from the city. They hang their clothes on a neighboring fence, and spend half the day in the water. Ladies coming to the city, in order to attend church, have been compelled to turn back on account of the indecent spectacle. That the Augusta darkies need washing and a plenty of it, there can be no possible doubt, but they should be compelled to seek more appropriate times and places.——A white man, name unknown, was run over and instantly killed by a freight train at Devereux on the Macon and Augusta railroad on Sunday. He endeavored to cross the track behind the train, which was shifting at the time, and fell, and one wheel of a car passed over him. His body was cut completely in two.——The County Court was organized by Judge Clairborne Snead at ten o'clock yesterday morning. Several criminal cases are now ready for trial before this Court.

LUMPKIN.

A band of strolling Gypsies are perambulating around in this county. They propose telling fortunes, and receive some patronage. The fortunes of most of our young men are not worth telling, being confined, as a general thing, to a small amount of fishing tackle and a pink necktie.——A man named Smith, who lives in the Mineral Spring District, and another man who was with him at the time, came very near being killed by lightning last week. The lightning killed one of the mules they were driving, injured the other, and stunned both the men.——During the past week farmers have made good progress cleaning out their crops, and if the fair weather continues a few days longer will have them greatly improved.—Independent.

SAVANNAH.

A new theatrical organization has started in Savannah, known as "the Savannah Dramatic Club." They will give a performance in a short time.——On Monday a negro woman was arrested and taken before Justice Berrian, upon a complaint of Mr. Joseph Mansfield, charging her with beating his child. This case was settled, but she subsequently visited Mansfield's house, and became so disorderly that she was again arrested and sent to jail.

The Advertiser and Republican tells of the robbery of an old lady recently in Savannah by a fortune teller by the name of Madame Le Duc. The Madame it seems can be greased, and undertook to alter a will for and in consideration of the reasonable sum of sixteen hundred dollars. The alteration was to deprive the old lady of certain property coming to her under the will, and give it to other interested parties. The $1,600 was paid in money and jewels belonging to the unsuspecting old lady. Some how the matter leaked out, a legal gentleman was brought upon the scene by the old lady's friends, and he paid a visit to madame. The conversation between them is not reported, but it is presumed to have been very lively. Madame had the choice presented her of shelling out, or going to jail, and she shelled. The paper does not mention any names, but says certain parties are watched.——The letter carrier system went into operation in Savannah on Tuesday.

Considerable excitement was created about 9 o'clock A. M. on Sunday in the neighborhood of St. Matthews Church, and in a family supposed to be a relict of the Modocs. The chief went for his squaw and papoose, and, in the absence of a tomahawk, operated with a brick. The squaw was doubled up at the first blow in such a manner as to cause serious apprehensions as to whether her spinal column was not knocked clean out. The papoose beat a retreat without standing upon the order of her going. The victorious chief was master of the field at last accounts.

Driving through the lanes of Savannah may be a relief to the poor horses, and a matter of convenience to the drivers, but it is also a source of revenue to the city. It only costs three dollars.—Advertiser & Republican.

The News has a special telegram relating to the fire of the 30th of June at Thomasville. From it we learn that the business part of the city has received a very heavy blow. The fire was the work of an incendiary. The total loss reaches $79,000; the insurance is $43,650.

CHOLERA.

Fearful Increase of the Epidemic in Chattanooga.

Twelve Cases in Sixteen Hours, and New Cases Without Number.

Special Telegram to The Atlanta Constitution.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., July 2.

The cholera is increasing here and proving more fatal. In deaths we have five since last night. Two died near the Rolling Mill and three near the depot. One man leaving on a special train last evening was taken with cholera and carried to Tunnel Hill, and is now dying. A negro drayman was taken sick at 6 P. M. and died shortly afterwards. Have no reports from the southern portion of the city, yet it is worse there than any other place in the city.

The following is an incorrect mortuary report taken from the Times of this date, for I know of half a dozen more deaths than the Times reports:

MORTUARY REPORT.

Up to 8 P. M. last night, Hugh Haskeil, colored, 41 years old, billious colic.

Mrs. Ada Tankersley, white, aged 30 years, cholera.

James Smith, colored, aged 25 years, cholera.

Deaths during the month of June, 1872, 33. For the same month this year, 52, or 19 more than for corresponding month of last year.

The highest mortality for June this year was on the 28th, when it reached 7. The highest in June, 1872, was on the 29th, when it reached 5.

Total cholera deaths for June, 1873, 17.

STILL LATER.

CHATTANOOGA, July 2, 1 P. M.

Twelve deaths have occurred since eight o'clock of yesterday evening.

The southern portion of the city is full of cases, but the disease thus far has not spread north of Ninth street.

The doctors and official authorities do not keep an account of the new cases. The number of them is very large. Since the disease has become so general and fatal they only note the deaths. LOOKOUT.

KATALYSINE WATER.

THE United States Dispensatory, the authorized record of our Materia Medica, classes this water with the most celebrated Alkaline or Carbonated Springs of Europe, and it excels any other known in known in its self-preserving properties. This the Gettysburg Katalysine Water has done in hundreds of instances. Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Gravel, Diabetes, Kidney and Urinary Diseases generally, have all yielded to its influence. It has restored Muscular Power to the Paralytic, cured Abdominal Dropsy, and given healthy action to the Torpid Liver. It has cured Chronic Diarrhœa, Piles, Constipation, Asthma, Catarrh, Diseases of the Skin, General Debility and Nervous Prostration from Mental and Physical Excesses. All these by the bottled water. It is a powerful antidote for Excessive Eating and Drinking. It corrects the Stomach, promotes Digestion, and Relieves the Head almost immediately. DEFIES REFUTATION

ATLANTA:

THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1873.

Seizure of the Macon and Brunswick Railroad.

The Macon and Brunswick Railroad, as will be seen from the proclamation elsewhere, has been seized by the Governor for failure to pay interest on the bonds endorsed by the State.

The prompt action of the Governor will meet with approval as also his appointment of President Hazlehurst as the agent of the State to receive and manage the road.

Our cotemporaries of the Macon Telegraph, Enterprise, Brunswick Appeal, and Savannah News are directed to copy.

The Walworth Parricide.

It will be seen from our dispatches that Walworth, who recently killed his father, has escaped the death penalty, being found guilty of murder in the second degree.

A Genuine Case of Cholera.

Our contemporaries, in speaking of THE CONSTITUTION, frequently apply to it the word "reliable." We confess that the reputation of reliability is one that we seek above all others; and having assured the public that the first case of cholera in Atlanta should be promptly chronicled, we proceed to redeem the promise. Every case that comes under our knowledge, with all attendant facts bearing upon a full knowledge of the situation, shall be instantly given to the public. This ought to be done for unanswerable reasons. Attempts to suppress the truth only work harm, while a clear statement of facts will relieve the public mind, dissipate injurious rumors and prevent false reports. When the people understand that no attempt will be made to deceive them, but that the facts and all the facts will be honestly stated, confidence and equanimity will take the place of uncertainty and alarm.

Now for the facts, for we have, unquestionably, a genuine case of cholera in Atlanta. It is at a house but a few hundred yards from the residence of a CONSTITUTION editor. At supper last night he was informed of the case, and within an hour thereafter he had called upon all the attendant physicians. The physicians seen were informed that facts must be published, and it would be best for the public that the statement should be full. Thereupon Dr. J. M. Boring (also, one of our Aldermen,) said that on Saturday last, at 2 P. M., the sick lady in question reached here from Chattanooga, where she had been living in a cholera neighborhood. She has been in feeble health for years. Repairing to her mother's residence, she felt no unusual trouble till Monday after dinner, when diarrhea began, which was checked by some medicine in the house. About 11 Monday night it again commenced, watery discharges continuing through Tuesday. At 10½ A. M. Wednesday (yesterday) Dr. Boring was called in, when he found the patient in a state of collapse, with cramps in arms and legs, and congestion throughout. He immediately applied remedies, and at 2 P. M., called in Dr. W. L. Armstrong, and Dr. Bozeman Baird was also present about 7 o'clock. Late last night all hope of recovery was abandoned. We shall report further in our afternoon edition.

So it will be seen that this case was clearly imported from Chattanooga, a thing we cannot prevent.

In 1866 we had several cases and deaths here among the soldiers, who brought the disease from Tennessee, but not a single outside case appeared in the city.

We must, therefore, not be surprised if we have some cholera cases of infected persons from a neighboring city. But we venture the prediction that not a single case of cholera will originate in Atlanta. All the laws governing the course of that fell disease must be violated first. Further, the conditions inviting cholera are absent, for our city authorities have acted so energetically that Atlanta is one of the cleanest cities in America. With its pure air, delightful freestone and mineral waters, there is not a safer summer resort in the South, and we are glad to know that there are numbers here from a distance on that account.

In conclusion, we repeat, that the people of Atlanta and of the State may rely upon THE CONSTITUTION's prompt publication of facts, whatever they be.

Brevities.

Eight provincial newspapers in England have formed a Syndicate to publish simultaneously a new story by the author of "Lady Audley's Secret."

The redingates or large outside pockets worn by ladies. bring a rich harvest now-a-days to the pockets of expert car thieves—for the fair ones will involuntarily drop therein their port-monnaies, embroidered handkerchiefs, etc.

Two wonderful gold mines in California—the Belcher and the Crown Point—have paid their stockholders, in the last eighteen months, the goodly sum of $11,000,000. The five last monthly dividends of the Belcher mine amounted to $3,100,000, and of the Crown Point, to $3,432,000.

The New York Graphic is advertising itself by raising a fund to build an immense Atlantic balloon for Professors Wise and Donaldson. A good share of the needful amount has been subscribed, and work on the air-ship begun. Prof. Wise has already received twenty-nine applications for passage.

The mercury rose to ninety-six degrees in New York last Saturday. The heat is described as oppressive and "stickey," with a dull, heavy weight in it that bore down the strongest, and sickened most people. Sunstrokes are of daily occurrence. Georgia offers many a cool asylum to the suffering Gothamites.

A high-life marriage recently took place in London, the parties being the second daughter of the Duke of Marlborough, and the eldest son of Sir Dudley Coutts Majoribanks. The bride's dress was of white satin, trimmed with Brussels point lace, with a veil of the same fabric, and a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a necklace of pearls, and a pearl diamond pendant and ear-rings. The Bishop of London officiated.

The placard of a Caledonian picnic, in San Francisco, was illuminated by the figure of an immense Highlander in the act of bearing a rock about the size of a watermelon. This placard has caused great consternation among the Chinese, who believe it to be a call for the organization of "An United Order of Cobble Stone Throwers" to pelt the much-abused Orientals.

[illegible], he is in a dilemma. He is [illegible] his private and religious marriage with the Countes Mirafionia, by a public and civil ceremony. Prince Humbert threatens to leave Rome, and to head a revolution if his father carries the design into execution. The Prince has Italy at his back. If the choice lies between his crown and his wife and children, the old King declares that he will abdicate. But when he gets down to business he will be apt to look twice before preferring a wife who is his already, so his Kingdom, which once lost, would never be his again.

Married.

Under this head our cotemporary, the Conyers (Ga.) Examiner thus pleasantly and facetiously speaks of THE CONSTITUTION. We highly appreciate its courtesy, and the many generous encomiums of the Georgia press, shall not be forgotten. A good result is thereby achieved, for, proud of their commendation, we strive all the more earnestly to merit it.

"In Atlanta, Georgia, on the morning of the 24th ult., THE CONSTITUTION and the Sun were united in the bans of matrimony. This alliance marks another important epoch in the history of Georgia journalism. By this union the list of the subscribers to THE CONSTITUTION has been largely increased. Mr. Stephens will continue his connection under the new regime, his articles appearing over his initials—"A. H. S. We anticipate now a more brilliant success for THE CONSTITUTION than it ever before realized. As Georgians, we feel a pardonable pride at its unparalleled prosperity."

Steam Towage on the Canals.

The want of cheap and adequate transportation between the East and the West—between the producer and the consumer—has led the people of New York to carefully consider the subject of canal towage, with a view of increasing the capacity of the Erie Canal. Our country is full of water courses and facilities for canal extension, and while we have progressed immensely in every other means of transportation, we still cling to the slow and ancient system of towage by horse power. The State of New York offered, about two years ago, a bonus of $100,000 for any practical plan of transportation by steam or any other motor except horse power. Many excellent suggestions have grown out of the many efforts to secure the bonus offered by the State, but no plan has been submitted that answers all the requirements—one that is economical and does not injure the banks of the narrow artificial river. In view of these failures a company of responsible moneyed men has been formed for the purpose of introducing the Belgian system of steam towage on the Erie Canal. It has long been in use on the river Seine, for towing boats between Paris and Havre, and on many canals in France, Austria, Germany, etc.

The new method consists of a wire cable laid loosely on the bottom of the canal for its entire length and fastened at its extreme ends, and a steam tug or tow boat provided with an additional engine to which is attached a clip drum, or grooved driving wheel, with suitable guiding and tightning pullies. The process of towing consists in hooking the cable from the bottom of the canal and placing it over the clip drum. The drum is then turned by the machinery in the steam tug, causing the cable to pass over it without slipping and fall back into the canal at the stern of the tugboat. The tug is thus drawn along the cable and through the canal with the same facility that a locomotive is drawn on rails, the only difference being that the rail is stationary and the engine passes over it, while the cable is flexible and passes over the drum of the steam-tug. Of course the canal boats are attached to the tug by ropes in the usual way.

Thirty-one miles of the new cable has been laid betweed Buffalo and Lockport, and it is now proposed to extend a double line of cable between Buffalo and Rochester, thus enabling a line of vessels to operate up and down the canal at the same time. The average speed of canal boats is increased by the system of from one and a half miles an hour to three miles; a single tug can haul six boats at an expense of $40 for twenty-four hours; and boats will be able to perform double the number of round trips during the season.

Now that the attention of capitalists and of inventors is directed toward the subject of towage, we may expect surprising improvements. The steam cable-towing system will double the capacity by the Erie Canal, but even then the great West will need other outlets for her immense crops. The idea that the railways can drive out the canals in the transportation of bulky products is fast fading away in the light of common sense, and the urgent needs of cheap transportation between distant part of an extensive country. The Atlantic and Great Western Canal will be an absolute necessity within ten years.

Joe Fass, dry goods; most of goods taken out and loss not known—damaged by rain.

S. J. Cassels, druggist, loss $1,000; some goods saved; insurance, $3,000.

Rushing & Outten, furniture and dry goods; most goods taken out, but many damaged by rain; loss $2,000; insurance, $1,500.

B. Goldberg, dry goods, loose in house and goods, (house not entirely burned) $4,500. Insurance on stock and building $9,000.

Ainsworth & Finn, loss in moving and consequent damage to goods about $400.

Besides some upstairs offices, which loss we do not know.

REAL ESTATE LOSS.—Davies & Co., $20,000; $4,590 insurance. Dr. Reid, $7,000; $4,000 insurance. T. C. Mitchell, $5,500; $3,000 insurance. J. A. Linton, $3,250; no insurance. Kubitscheck & Bro., $5,000; $3,000 insurance. Rosenfield & Levy, $5,000; $3,000 insurance, house occupied by J. Fass.

Just before checking the fire a rain set in, greatly damaging the goods moved. Most of the goods west of Preer & Hunt's were moved out, and, but for the great damage by the rain, many more might have been saved. We sum up the loss to be, at a rough approximation, $92,750, with an insurance at $36,700.

The streets are about clear of goods, having been moved into the different stores, who acted, we would here say, very liberally in giving room. Some have secured vacant rooms and are moving in. Jo. Fass is moving in the vacant room below this office.

After the fire was stopped the negroes got hold of plenty of whisky, and a livelier set has seldom been seen, with not a little fighting, but no damage. Well, let them frolic a little; they did good work, and deserve much credit. In fact everybody worked like Trojans.

Mr. Henry Ladson was burned very bad in the face, and Neal Lightfoot and Luther Thompson were well singed.

Phi Delta and Ciceronian—Alumni Address and Banquet—Two Juniors Get Prizes—Seniors' Exhibition.

Death of Col. W. B. Parker.

Special Telegram to The Atlanta Constitution.

MACON, July 2.

The annual oration of the Phi Delta Society was pronounced by John S. Freeman, of Newnan, and that of the Ciceronian by W. M. Jackson, of Macon. Both acquitted themselves with eclat!

Rev. J. G. Ryalls made an address to the Alumni replete with thought. The banquet at Huff's Hall to the Alumni was elegant, and though the sparkling bowl was not there, wit, wisdom and sentiment abounded.

Impromptu responses to toasts in lemonade were made by Messrs. Lawton, Bacon, McCall, Beck, D. E. Butler, J. R. Thorpe, Mayor Huff, Blount, Mason, Holt, Jones, Tuggle and J. W. Burke.

Seven juniors made creditable speeches last night and the prizes were delivered by Hon. A. O. Bacon, after a chaste address to the two successful sophomores.

A brilliant and appreciative audience thronged Ralston's Hall to-day. Eleven seniors delivered orations.

Colonel W. B. Parker, an old and prominent citizen, was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery yesterday.

CHOLERA.

The March of Death in Our Sister City.

The People Wild with Excitement, and Fleeing in Every Direction.

Full Intelligence of the Disease in Other Towns.

The Constitution's Special from Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, July 2, 1873.

The cholera is raging fearfully to-day, and the excitement is intense. Many are wild with apprehensions of sudden death. They gather in groups, and the exaggerated stories which they hear only serve to increase the panic.

People are fleeing in every direction. Some left their work and left without a word.

Very few wealthy or prominent men are now in the city—only poor people are left for the awful disease to prey upon.

Sixteen deaths have been reported so far to-day, and the grave-diggers have now got fourteen graves dug.

Two of the dead are employees of the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company—Hopwood and O'Bannon.

It is difficult to pick out the truth in the appalling excitement. It is impossible to get a full list of the dead and dying to-night.

LOOKOUT.

Nashville.

We find the following figures of death in the Union and American:

Total cholera deaths Sunday	24

Grand total	37
MONDAY.
Cholera deaths—whites	4

Total cholera deaths Monday	10

The clerks in the wholesale houses are being measured for new sets of chairs.

Mr. Hook, a gardener of Nashville, is engaged in shipping northward a large lot of green corn and ripe plums. Nashvillians don't "hanker arter" such articles just now.

Governor Brown is at home in Pulaski, suffering severely with neuralgia of the eyes. State Treasurer Morrow is at Knoxville.

The Union and American declares that the epidemic is over; that the deaths hereafter may be regarded as cholera infantum, flux or dysentery. As long as the rate is between thirty and forty a day the exact name of the disease is not very important.

The cholera deaths alone in the month of June exceeded 700.

Seventy-five convicts in the penitentiary are down with the disease.

A boy died in South Nashville on Sunday from having eaten blackberries.

Samuel Donelson, Clerk of the Criminal Court, has been seriously attacked.

Other Tennessee Towns.

Our special telegraphic reports from Chattanooga are much fuller and more accurate than the news on the subject in the daily paper of that city.

All trains on the E. T. Va. and Ga. R. R. are disinfected before they leave Chattanooga.

The Stanton House is closed, and the top of Lookout Mountain crowded.

Greenville is nearly depopulated. Ex-President Johnson and his family have gone to the residence of his son-in-law, ex-Senator Patterson. The latest death in Greenville was that of Mrs. Wilboite.

Ninety-five cholera deaths in Gallatin up to last Friday—14 whites and 81 colored.

The Avalanche puts the interments on Monday in Memphis at 17, of which at least 8 were from cholera.

Quite a stir was created on Monday by the arrest, upon indictments, of about twenty aristocratic Memphians for permitting nuisances to remain upon their premises. The fines ranged from $50 to $500.

Elsewhere.

Among the persons prostrated by cholera in Cincinnati was Mayor Johnston.

The St. Louis Times of the 29th says there is no good reason for suppressing the fact that the cholera has reached St. Louis. Out of 255 deaths for the week ending with the 28th, the Board of Health reported as follows:

Cholera infantum	30
Cholera morbus	25
Diarrhoea	11
Summer complaint	40

One peculiar feature of the disease is the terrible fatality among children. The official report shows that there were 173 deaths of children under five years of age.

Thus far it is noticeable that the lower part of the city has been most affected. This is attributed partly to the numerous impure wells from which water is obtained for drinking, and partly the miasma brought up by the southeast breezes from the slough ponds, the scavenger dumps, dead animal, boat and other nuisances.

ALABAMA.

There were seven cases of cholera in Huntsville, Alabama, on Thursday, and the disease is said to be daily on the increase. One or two persons were struck with cramps on the streets, and died almost immediately. Quite an excitement has been produced, and everybody who can do so is leaving.

PRESS DISPATCHES.

NASHVILLE, July 2.—Six deaths occurred to-day from cholera. No new cases are reported.

CAIRO, July 2—Four railroad hands four miles below here died of cholera and others are sick.

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—Several of the most prominent physicians deny that the cholera is here. They call it malignant cholera morbus.

When the two suits are determined the property and franchise will again be put up at public auction.

THE WALWORTH TRIAL.

CONVICTION.

Murder in Second Degree.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The charge of Judge Davis in the Walworth trial was if the jury were satisfied from the evidence that young Walworth came to New York with the intention to murder his father, then the crime was murder in the first degree; but if the crime was committed in the sudden heat of passion then it would be murder in the second degree.

Walworth was found guilty of murder in the second degree.

The Judge also charged that the jury should not regard the fears which the prisoner entertained for the life of his mother, as they could not be regarded as any justification of his crime; that they should only regard those fears which were personal. The law did not make it justification when the killing was done through fear that the life of another was in danger. They could, however, consider whether the fear that his mother's life was in danger did not give point to the fear which he entertained for his own life on the meeting on the morning of the 3d of June. At the conclusion the Judge charged the jury, who retired, and, after an absence of three hours, returned at 8:10 P. M. with a verdict of "guilty of murder in the second degree.

UNITED STATES BONDS BOUGHT.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Post's financial article says: "The Associated Press dispatches from London, says that the Berlin Government has bought from Syndicate, having in charge negotiation new United State fives. Ten millions United States bonds is confirmed by the members of the Syndicate here. This operation is likely to have important bearing, not only on the future price of American securities in London, but in course of that the money market as the transfer of the money necessary to pay for these bonds, from the account of the Berlin Government at the London Joint Stock Bank to the syndicate bankers in London, will, it is thought, prevent for the present at least any further shipments of gold from London to Germany. The Berlin Government was probably better enabled to make this purchase, from the fact that the bullion necessary to carry on its coinage operations during the next month will be supplied by the bank of France in the three indemnities. The payments falling due on the 5th of July, August and September. We do not now recall an event in the financial world which should be more satisfactory to those interessed in the advance American credit than is this, for it shows that the German government considers that our promises to pay are equivalent in its estimation to cash in a bank in London—an acknowledgement which we do not remember to have been made by one government to another, where no political considerations were involved, and where the governments were not bound by a common interest, such as being allies in time of war.

The Bank of England, at the regular weekly meeting of the Governors this morning, made no change in the minimum discount rate, which will remain at six per cent., with a firmer tone.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

History of the Farmers' Grange.

Its Origin and Objects.

The National Headquarters.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The organization known as the Patrons of Husbandry, was organized in Washington City in 1867, and the National Grange was organized in December of that year, in this city. The objects of the order, as announced in the second circular, were to advance education, to elevate and dignify the occupation of the farmer and to protect its members against the numerous combinations by which their interests are injuriously effected, and for protecting, by all available means, the farming interests from fraud and deception of every kind. The social feature is to make country homes, country society attractive, refined and enjoyable, and to balance exhaustive labors by instructive amusements and accomplishments. This order proposes to abolish the commissions of the middle men, and deal directly with the manufacturers and consumers and where it may be deemed necessary to reduce the fares and freights on railroads by a system of cooperation; no political or religious discussions are permitted, and like most secret orders, this one has a charitable feature. Women are admitted as members. The headquarters are in Georgetown, District of Columbia, where all the business of the National Grange is transacted. Over one-half million of tracts or pamphlets, principally of addresses, delivered from time to time, in furtherance of the order, were sent out last year, together with occasional circulars of a confidential character. There is a total of 4,355 subordinate Granges in the United States and eight in Canada, comprising probably 225,000 members.

M. Jules Seurent, of the Right Centre, then moved that the appointment of the special committee on constitutional bills be postponed one month after the next recess. After an animated discussion, in which M. Gambetta took part, the motion was adopted.

M. Gambetta protested against any attempt of the Assembly to manufacture a constitution without first declaring for whom and for what kind of government it was intended.

DEAR SIR—Messrs. Goff & CO., of Cincinnati, Ohio, desire us to accept the Agency for the sale of their Crescent Brewery Vienna Beer. We have tried the Beer and find it a pleasant and palatable beverage; but before accepting the sale of it, we want your professional opinion as to its purity. GENTLEMEN—This will certify that I have made a thorough chemical examination of the "Crescent Brewery" Lager Beer received of you a few days ago. I find the article free from injurious substances, drugs, etc.; the bitter principle being due to pure hop resin. The analysis herewith affixed exhibits the quantities of the main proximate constituents, and compares favorably with the analysis of the best foreign beers and ales.

I am very truly yours, WM. J. LAND, Analytical Chemist.

PHYSICAL TRAINING.—One of the reporters of THE CONSTITUTION had the pleasure on Monday of listening to a lecture on physical training by Dr. A. L. Hamilton. It was replete with common sense views of the physical and moral life, and evinced a thorough knowledge by the speaker of the subject essayed.

The importance of eclectic gymnastics was here vividly portrayed, especially where the gentleman showed the relative bearing of physical training to the health, and morals and development of the rising generation. The training, he said, was calculated to give beauty of form, and ease, and grace of manner, and would relieve general debility, spinal curvature, and so on.

The doctor then introduced some pupils of his, who went through the exercises with ease and grace—exhibiting beautiful, healthful forms, full of vigor and ease. The parents and friends of the pupils were invited to attend the exercises, and see for themselves the wonderful practice weak and feeble persons were capable of after having tried it gradually at first and increasing by degrees.

THE COURTS.

The Last Day's Proceedings of the Superior Court—The Decision in the Conley Pardon Case Suspended—The Superior Court Adjourned to the Next October Term—Case of Lunacy Before the Ordinary.

Fulton Superior Court

Met for the last time this term, at the usual hour yesterday morning, Judge Hopkins presiding. Argument was resumed and concluded upon the scire facias alluded to in yesterday's CONSTITUTION. Able speeches were made by Honorable B. H. Hill, for the securities, and by the Attorney General for the State. Judge Hopkins reserved his decision and will deliver it during the vacation.

As is usual upon the last days of a court, a vast amount of business, in the way of motions, orders, etc., interesting only to the parties involved, was disposed of. Among the more important cases brought up on various motions, we may mention the following:

Hoyt & Jones vs C B Welborn. Same vs Same. Motion in these cases by defendant to set aside the judgments. This motion did not prevail. John M. Clark & Son, plaintiffs' attorneys. Hillyer & Bro for defendant.

Hoyt & Jones vs C B Welborn, maker and indorser, and T W Connally, accepter. Judgment against C B Welborn. The Sheriff had failed to serve the accepter. John M Clark & Son, plaintiffs' attorneys. Molli, defendant's attorney.

In several cases against A. L. Harris and W. D. Cook, for cheating and swindling, as well as in one indictment against A. L. Harris, for withholding money, the defendant demanded trials at this term, and their demands were ordered spread upon the minutes.

A petition from Judge Jenkins to adopt an infant child, Frederick Jones, was granted.

Motions for new trials in the State cases of George Henson, Henry Holmes and Zack Rice were heard and overruled.

In a number of civil cases motions for new trials were either overruled or set down to be heard in vacation.

At about one o'clock the Superior Court, was formally adjourned to its regular October Term, closing one of the longest and certainly as laborious a session as it ever held. Yesterday afternoon, Judge Hopkins, at Chambers, heard and disposed of some injunction cases, not however of any especial public interest. The Judge contemplates leaving the city as soon as business will permit, and recruit awhile, probably at a watering place. He is certainly entitled to a good long rest.

The Justices' Courts.

Yesterday morning Justice Butt tried John T. Jones for the offense of bastardy. The charge was preferred by Mrs. Francis Edwards. The defendant introduced some evidence, and an affidavit to the effect that the charge was not true and signed by the prosecutrix. The Court was satisfied that this did not state the facts, and bound the defendant over in a bond of $750 to appear before the Superior Court. J. A. Anderson for the State, L. J. Gartrell for the defense.

The other magistrates did no criminal business yesterday, although a large number of warrants have been issued.

The Court of Ordinary.

John S. Jenkins made an affidavit yesterday before the Ordinary to the effect that his wife, Mary Jenkins, was a lunatic and ought to be confined. The evidence in the case, at least that portion of it which we heard, would seem to show that whisky was the main trouble in the Jenkins family. The wife confessed that she took too much, and upon too many occasions. The evidence was concluded yesterday afternoon, and argument will be heard to-day, if the case is not settled in the meantime.

Station House Report.

The police arrested five evil-doers yesterday. Disorderly conduct, drunkeness, pedling without license and keeping a house of ill fame are the offenses charged.

There were also two State arrests, Peter Houston and his wife. They are charged with perjury.

STATE NATIONAL BANK, ATLANTA.—The officers and directors of this bank from President Ball down, held a happy meeting at 5 P. M., in the fine fruit orchard of J. R. Wallace, Esq., and with coats off, mouths open and hands outstretched, they discussed bravely the high things which hung on the heavy-laden peach trees and pear trees of our generous neighbor. After which they sat down to a rich flow of domestic wine and lemonade. The bankers then threaded their way through thick labyrinths of grapes, and found this field of investigation equally refreshing. They adjourned at sunset.

PERSONAL.—Captain Henry Jackson left the city yesterday, with his family, for the Virginia Springs. After his laborious duties, as Reporter of the Supreme Court, he needs rest. But the new term will find him on hand, furnishing daily to the readers of the Constitution the proceedings of the highest judicial tribunal of the State, and its weekly decisions.

A popular belle has weighty grounds for that popularity. She only weighs one hundred and forty! The Belle of [illegible] Ky., is now rusticating at Stone Mount[illegible] of the average Atlanta beau is tur[illegible] morning in that direction.

The house [illegible] Doyle & Co., have commenced business [illegible] Alabama street, four doors below the [illegible] National Bank. They are merchant millers, [illegible] those fine mills known as the "Bristol and [illegible]rleston Mills" in Tennessee. They will sell at [illegible]lesale grain, flour, meal, stock feed, etc. The firm is composed of G. B. Ewing & W. J. Doyle, Atlanta, and James M. Waldie, Bristol, and J. H. Girard, [illegible], Tennessee.

We extend them a hearty welcome in our midst.

Major George B. Chamberlain and lady are in the city.

Rev. John S. Dodd, a venerable Baptist Divine, from Fayette county, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Dodd is about seventy years old; has been living in one neighborhood since 1820, a period of 53 years; he joined the church at Bethsaida, was ordained to preach there and has been pastor of that church for forty years; and has served three other church twenty years. He has received into the church about 800 members. He is still hale, hearty and vigorous and bids fair to preach for some time to come.

Messrs. Walker and Boyd are the general agents of the Planters Fire and Marine Insurance Company, of Memphis, Tennessee, for the States of Alabama Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Mr. C. B. Lin, late with the popular house of Stephens & Flynn, is now traveling agent for Stewart, Austen & Co., merchant millers.

Hon A H Stephens arrived yesterday evening, and is the guest of Col J A Stephens.

SISTERS OF MERCY.

Annual Commencement of School of Sisters of Mercy—Concordia Hall Filled with a Large Audience—Splendid Music—Interesting Exercises—Distribution of Premiums.

Last night Concordia Hall was filled with a large and appreciative audience to witness the commencement exercises of the school of Sisters of Mercy. These exercises always draw a full house because it is known that the Sisters of Mercy ever do their full duty by the pupils of their school. It is not so much with them a labor of duty as of love.

The exercises commenced at 7 o'clock. Rev. Father McCarty, of Brooklyn, being present, conducted the exercises. The walls of the Hall were graced with drawings by the pupils of the school, while an oil painting of the Reverend Father O'Reilly was suspended on the stage, over a vacant chair.

Each one named in the order of exercises did their parts well.

Miss Alice Norwood performed on the piano—Weber's "Storm"—with distinguished success.

We have not time to dwell on the dialogue, "The Genius of Christianity," with its scenic effects. But it was worth seeing.

Miss Norwood delivered the valedictory—one of those touching, sweet and eloquent utterances of the heart that ever strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of all who hear it. Miss Norwood was greeted with repeated applause and complimented with several bouquets.

The song "Good Night," was sung by the school with fine effect about 1 o'clock this morning, when the audience dispersed. A false alarm of fire was sounded in the early part of the evening.

This reporter is under obligations to Hon. M. Mahoney and John Stephens for courtesies extended.

ON 'CHANGE.—The merchants on 'Change yesterday were glad to welcome the genial phiz of their President, Major Crane, as for several days his good humored smile had not enlivened them. He presided with all the dignity and impressiveness of Speaker Trammell.

President Crane called attention to the tax act adopted by Council Monday night. He thought that a literal construction of that ordinance would require merchants to pay taxes on double and treble what they were worth, and would increase the returns of various parties from $51,000 to $500,000 per annum. What he thought Council intended to demand was that tax should be paid on "capital stock and a reasonable profit." But to require merchants to pay tax on capital stock, merchandize, cash and solvent debts was too onerous. He read the second section of the tax ordinance from THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION of July 2d, 1873.

The subject was discussed at some length by Messrs. A. C. Wyly, J. N. Dunn, W. M. Lowry, J. A. Bowie and others.

On motion the special committee on Taxes, Messrs. A. C. Wyly, J. N. Dunn and T. L. Langston were instructed to confer with members of the city council and ascertain what was the intention of council, and the right construction of the ordinance.

On motion President Crane was added to the committee. Since the action On 'Change a merchant has directed our attention to the clause requiring the capital stock to be given in on the first of April, and the tax on gross sales of merchandise for the quarter being also called for. He enquired if it does not demand a double tax.

We have conversed with leading members of council on the subject, and their construction of the ordinance is the same that we put on it, viz: That it requires the giving in of the merchandize, cash and solvent debts on hand on the first of April, considering that to be the capital stock of the merchant. In other words, "merchandize, cash and solvent debts" mean capital stock, and is simply an enumeration of it.

The special committee will report to-night at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The Secretary was absent yesterday from the meeting on 'Change, and will be let off from fine by furnishing the proper amount of ice to-day and to-night.

CHOLERA.

Its Origin and Prevention.

Editors Constitution: The anxiety of the public mind in relation to cholera will justify a few short remarks on this subject. Cholera was, until 1817, exclusively a disease of the East Indies, where it generally occurred after wet seasons, and generally in connection with bad rice crops. It began to spread first in Asia and reached Astrachan and Moscow in 1830, Petersburg, Vienna and Berlin 1831, and soon afterwards the American continent.

Epidemics of various magnitudes have since devastated many portions of Europe and America, and numerous observations have established the following facts in relation to its origin and mode of propagation:

1. Cholera does not develop itself spontaneously outside of the East Indies. It is always imported when it makes its appearance in Europe or America. Its diffusion always follows the great routes of travel, and human beings are always the carriers of the contagion.

2. The alvine evacuations of infected persons even if these persons are only suffering from comparatively mild attacks of cholera diarrhœa are the principal medium containing the cholera poison. The privies where they are deposited and the soiled clothing of cholera patients constitute in every epidemic the centers of infection from which the disease is locally propagated either by direct contact or by the pollution of the soil, water and finally to more or less extent the atmosphere of a locality. Hence the cholera patients are less to be dreaded than their evacuations and their articles of clothing, etc., with which they have come in contact.

3. The cholera poison contained in these evacuations from the stomach and bowels, which, according to some investigators, is an organized substance, a microscopic fungus which grows parasitically on the rice plant of the East Indies—when subjected to favorable external influences undergoes further development and multiplication, and becomes more highly infectious.

The depth, degree of moisture of the soil, and its pollution with putrid animal and vegetable substances are the principal factors which favor the development and diffusion of the cholera poison. These conditions are depending on the looseness and porosity of the soil, and therefore on the geological character of the rocks by the decomposition of which they have been formed and on the sanitary measures existing in different cities to prevent the pollution of the soil and drinking water. No section of country, however is entirely exempt from cholera, while those containing principally primitive rocks and a hard impermeable soil are not so capable of propagating the disease as those places situated in later formations with softer rocks and loose, more porous soils. To the first class of more favorably situated cities Atlanta belongs.

The elevation of a locality above the level of the sea has also a considerable influence on its being infected by cholera. In localities over two thousand feet high it does not occur.

Certain individual conditions establish a predisposition to the disease, to-wit: weakness, deficient nutrition, intemperance, colds effecting the abdominal organs, diatetic errors and the use of strong purgative medicines. A plain diet, abstinence from the use of all fruits and indigestible vegetables, pine apples, melons, cucumbers, cabbage, and turnips in particular, is, therefore, to be urgently recommended during the prevalence of a cholera epidemic.

It is incompatible with the object of these lines, and the space allowed to them, to enter into a more minute consideration of the relative importance of these different factors in the propagation of the disease in different localities, and under different circumstances, or into a statement of the many observations upon which the few facts stated above are based. We only wish it understood that they are facts generally acknowledged by the medical world of the present day.

After thus considering very briefly, and only in its general outlines the origin and mode of propagation of the disease, the question, "How can cholera be prevented, and what should be done in Atlanta for that purpose besides what already has been done?" is near on hand.

An energetic and effective quarantine is the first and most indispensable necessity to arrest the progress of the disease. When cholera reached Petersburg, in 1851, the entire Court of Russia moved to Zarskocelo, a small town of 10,000 inhabitants a short distance from the former, and in consequence of a rigid isolation not one case of the disease occurred there, while it raged at a fearful rate in Petersburg. Numerous observations to the same effect are on record. Every one who has observed the course of the present epidemic has noticed its spread along the course of the railroads southward from Nashville and southward to Chattanooga, and why the disease may not be brought here, when several passenger trains from there are daily landing in our city, is a question, which at least, the humble writer, is not able to answer. The many objections to the propriety of quarantine as a measure of protection can not be discussed here. We are confident, however, that an attack of the disease would quickly convert its most rigid opponents into warm advocates of the same. Hence, where there is a will there is a way, and where hundreds, and perhaps thousands, of human lives are at stake the former should never be wanting.

Systematic inspections and rigid control of the privies of the city, with a view to prompt daily disinfection, at least weekly removal of the disinfected contents outside of the city limits and the restriction of their use to well persons alone.

The privies of railroad cars, hotels, public schools and other public buildings would deserve particular attention and control.

Solution of sulphate of iron or chloride of lime are, as disinfectants, preferable to the common lime. The immediate disinfection of any suspicious discharges in any case should be particularly urged by all physicians. Permanganate of potash 2 parts, persulphate of iron 48 parts and water 8 parts is perhaps the most appropriate solution for that purpose. Every person should avoid strange privies. The importance of these measures would increase with the evidences of the development of an epidemic.

What so far has been done in Atlanta in this direction is praise-worthy, but not sufficient.

To empty privies and bury their contents in the back-yards of human habitations is truly a poor way of abating so called nuisances. It improves appearances but does not prevent the impregnation of the soil, and the water of the wells with putrid animal matter, and the soluble salts of the urine.

A comparison of the condition of the water, for instance on Whitehall street, with its condition twelve or fifteen years ago, furnishes conclusive evidence of this fact. This pollution of the soil, and drinking water of our habitations, is the main cause of the insalubrity of large cities and its prevention the principal task of public hygiene.

It is time that our citizens and particularly our city authorities should begin to appreciate fully the great importance of this subject and while it is too late now to remedy this increasing evil in the most effective manner to meet the present emergency they should at least restrict it by introducing and enforcing rigid daily disinfection of the privies and weekly removal of their disinfected contents outside of the city limits. The most effective mode however of preventing this pollution and its unavoidable effects on the salubrity of cities consists in proper drainage. Permanent drains and canals constructed of impermeable material, at at sufficient depth below the surface, with a sufficient fall and a sufficiently large amount of water brough to the city by water works to float off every day all the human excrements, all the offall and all the surplus water from cellars, basements, etc, beyond the city limits before decomposition commences can only afford that immunity from disease and that protection to life from the dangers of infection which all human beings are entitled to enjoy and which, under the dictates of modern civilization, the most of cities are striving to attain for their inhabitants by the adoption of these measures. May Atlanta for her own good not remain too long in the rear.

DISCIPLINE THE LIVER.—The liver is truly an "unruly member." Sometimes it is torpid and secretes too slowly, at other times it is unnaturally active and sends forth a perfect freshet of bile. Regulate this organ with Hostetter's Bitters, not with calomel or blue mass. Mineral excitants, in stimulating the liver, poison the blood, and their ultimate effect is terrible. The bitters, on the other hand, have a vitalizing and purifying, as well as a stimulating effect. They not only regulate the flow of bile, but infuse new life into the whole system. A good appetite and perfect digestion, a regular, natural habit of body, a sound condition of the nervous system, vivacity of spirits, increased bodily strength and power of endurance, and refreshing sleep are among the blessings they promote. The temperature of summer is a severe tax upon the digestive and secretive organs, and the bitters are never more indispensable than at this period of the year.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

THE LAST ORNAMENT OF CONGRESS.

Is Senator Mitchell Guilty of Bigamy!

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

Yesterday morning the Chronicle reprinted from the Pittsburgh Ledger an interview with Sadie Hoon, Senator Mitchell's first wife, in which the lady gives as a reason for the separation of herself and husband that he brought to the house, lived with, and finally ran away with a young lady school teacher. This little circumstance seems to have escaped the memory of both Mr. Mitchell and his old law partner, Colonel Thompson, in their narrations. That there is no doubt of the correctness of Sadie Hoon's story, we give publicity to the following facts, which indicate that he not only ran away with his oldest child and the school teacher, one Mary J——, but brought them both to this State:

Mr. Hipple disappeared from Pennsylvania in the early part of April, 1860, and about the first of May of that year, Mr. John H. Mitchell landed at the port of San Luis Obispo, in this State, from a Panama steamer bound for San Francisco. He was accompanied by a handsome, vivacious young woman, whom he introduced as Mrs. Mitchell, his wife, and a little girl, whom they both called their daughter.

Mr. Mitchell took his family out to San Luis Obispo, rented and furnished a house, and commenced the practice of law. The lady whom he introduced in society as his wife, was very fond of him, and, with an eminent talents, said he had studied law himself. She stated that she had been a school teacher before her marriage with Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell was invited, and accepted the invitation, to deliver a Fourth-of-July oration, but soon after left the place, giving as his reason for so doing his ignorance of the Spanish language and the strong Democratic proclivities of the people—he being a Republican. They left, and a few months later he appeared in Portland alone, and reported that his wife had died in California a few weeks before. This sustains the statement of Sadie Hoon. But when did Mr. Mitchell's wife die in California? He came from San Luis Obispo to this city, and he went from this city to Portland. Did she die here? Did any one ever hear that lawyer Mitchell's wife died in San Francisco?

But leaving this school ma'am—this middle woman—out of the controversy, Sadie Hoon says, and we presume the records of Butler county, Pennsylvania, will sustain her statement, that she was not divorced from him until 1867, and that he paid her $500 to release her from the marriage contract; yet he married his present wife in Oregon in 1862. On the whole, Mr. Hipple Mitchell appears to have had a stronger affection for women than regard for law, and his sense of honor does not appear to be up to the standard of even a modern United States Senator. There are several unpleasant and unsatisfactory phases in Mr. Mitchell's own statement concerning the little irregularities of his past life, and every day or two adds another ugly feature to the picture. We regret to say it, but the facts already elicited from Mr. Mitchell prove him to be unworthy of the confidence of the people of Oregon, and unfit to sit in the seat once occupied by E. D. Baker.

☞ While a clergyman, of the Methodist order, was praying at a camp meeting, in a most fervent manner for the power of the devil to be curtailed, a zealous old negro man loudly exclaimed: "Amen, yes, bless God, cut the tail smoove off."

DANGER.—At this season the atmosphere is surcharged with the seeds of intermittents, remittents, rheumatism, pulmonary disorders, bilious complaints and the like. Persons whose nervous systems are relaxed are the first to succumb to these distempers. Brace up the physical energies then with this potential vegetable tonic. It is the most powerful recuperant which the botanic kingdom has ever yielded to patient research and experiment. Try it. The blindest disciple of the old medical dogmas will at least admit that a tonic and alterative, compounded of approved herbs, roots and barks can do no harm, while the testimony of thousands invites a trial of its virtues. Vigor is the thing most needed in these cases as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters is the safest, surest and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted.

Dr. Calhoun's Liver Pills.

I AM engaged in the Manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Billious Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last thirty-five years and has taken precedence over all other Family Preparations, by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incident to this climate. With but few exceptions, they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say, during that long period, not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from Druggists, Merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMATISM, CHOLERA MORBUS, BILLIOUSNESS and SICK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yields readily to this preparation.

Price, 50 cents a Box.
